Pilot of PN-9 No. 1 Tells
Probing Board Mitchell's
Charges Are Incorrect

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Colonel William Mitchell of the army air service reported Monday to the inspector general's office of the war department where disciplinary proceedings against him are under consideration.

The case at this stage is in the hands of Col. George A. Nugent of the inspector general's office and the purpose was to furnish the colonel with copies of the proposed charges against him, growing out of his San Antonio statements which precipitated the present aviation inquiry.

Before any charges are made, Col. Mitchell will be given an opportunity to make any reply he desires in advance. Colonel Nugent's recommendation as to further proceedings will be made after he has considered what Col. Mitchell has to say.

Col. Mitchell later went to the capitol where he announced that if court martial proceedings were initiated, representative Frank Reid of Illinois would head his civilian defense counsel.

Mr. Reid was a member of the house aircraft committee of the last congress.

Col. H. A. White of the army judge advocate general staff Col. Mitchell said, probably would head the military counsel.

TWO CHANNELS

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The whirl wind of contention that Col. William Mitchell has set in motion after the American air activities divided Monday along two paths. The president's air board after a recess over the weekend, was called to continue the examination of naval air officers, while Col. Mitchell was summoned by the army inspector general to report to the war department as the next step in the investigation which is expected to result in disciplinary action against him because of the charges made in his statement issued at San Antonio, Tex., about a month ago. The proceedings in his case have been held in abeyance to permit the colonel to appear before the air board. Refusing to discuss the summons, Col. Mitchell apparently was undisturbed by the expected court martial proceedings. On the eve of reporting to the department, he called a press conference to announce that his fight for a sweeping change in the nation's defense organization had "just begun."

DENIES TESTIMONY

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Colonel William Mitchell's charge that "amateur bungling" by non-flying naval officers were responsible for the failure of the navy's Hawaiian flight drew a contradiction Monday before the president's air board from Lieutenant Byron J. Connell, pilot of the PN-9 No. 1.

Under questioning by Senator Bingham of Connecticut, Lieut. Connell backed up the testimony given last week by Commander, John Rodgers leader of the flight, declaring that all arrangements were carried out by Rodgers and other flying officers.

Although not mentioning Col. Mitchell by name, Lieut. Connell added that the flight were to be attempted again tomorrow "we would leave under the same conditions."

Failure of the wind, which weather experts could not foresee, Connell continued, was largely responsible for the plane not reaching Honolulu.

The witness said he knew of no hesitancy by naval officers to give personal views before investigating bodies. He endorsed a separate air corps in the navy and favored a separate budget for the corps but opposed an independent air service.

TOUTED AIR ACROBAT
NEARLY LOSES LIFE

Madison, (AP)—Travis G. Boggs, self-styled as "the world's most spectacular aerial acrobat," narrowly escaped death Monday morning when the airplane he was piloting to Portage where he was to perform at the Columbia-co fair Monday crashed to earth in Eken field at the end of North-st.

COOLIDGE'S TRIP TO LEGION CONCLAVE IS FIRST TRIP TO WEST

With President Coolidge's Train Enroute to Omaha Near Chillicothe, Ohio—A daylight trip through southern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois lay before President Coolidge Monday as his train traveled westward toward Omaha where Tuesday he will address the American legion convention. His route was through a section of the country he has not visited since entering the White House.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge boarded the train Sunday in Washington. The president is determined to confine himself to one speech on the trip, the prepared address he will deliver to the war veterans at Omaha.

The president's train is due in Omaha Tuesday. He will be back in Washington Thursday.

TAKES CAR AWAY FROM DRUNK WHO CAUSED SMASHUP

Judge Berg Also Gives George
Schuyler, Menasha, a Term in County Workhouse

One more autoist who mixed booze with his driving and endangered others on his highway by causing an accident was taught a stiff lesson by Judge Berg when he appeared in municipal court Monday morning. The driver was George Schuyler of Menasha, who was sentenced to a 60-day term in the county workhouse and also was ordered to refrain from operating his automobile for six months. His companion, Ernest Sickles of Tipton, who also had partaken of the same bottle, was fined $10 and costs for intoxication but was unable to pay and was given a 10-day workhouse sentence.

was made Monday morning by Sheriff Arost of the pair, who are Indians, off Peter Schwartz at Seymour, as the result of a collision at 9:30 Sunday night. They were driving from Oneida to Seymour on highway 54 and the zigzag course of their car caused it to crash into a touring car owned and driven by Ernest Schuster, a farmer living east of Seymour. Mr. Schuster was going to Green Bay, accompanied by Miss Selma Svalis, and the collision took place about five miles east of Seymour. Mr. Schuster alleges that the highway was unsafe and unobstructed and there was plenty of room for the automobiles to pass each other. The car driven by the Indians swerved into the other, however, and the former machine turned turtle in the ditch. Mr. Schuster's machine had a running board torn off and another damage done. The Schuyler car was partially wrecked. None of the occupants was injured, however.

Schuyler, in addition to losing the use of his automobile, was fined $50 by Judge Berg but was unable to pay the sum and therefore was committed to the workhouse for 60 days instead.

FIRE KILLS 6 INDIAN ORPHANS AT MISSION

Lewistown, Idaho—(AP)—Fire visited the little Catholic mission settlement lying in the Nez Perce Indian reservation 25 miles east of here at mid night Saturday and took a toll of six orphan dead. Located five miles from a railroad in a sparsely settled section, the boys' dormitory at the mission where 21 youngsters lay asleep was wiped out by the flames while volunteer fighters fought valiantly to rescue the entrapped youth.

Nuns of the mission heroically worked to arouse the sleeping youths half dragging them from their beds to safety. The sisters were believed to have escorted all of the boys from the building when five of the lads—one only 5 years old—dashed back into the blazing building to rescue some companion they thought was facing death.

The bodies of six were found closely huddled together by the rescue workers who juked through the ruins. The victims ranged in age from 5 to 14 years.

53 DROWN AS FINNISH TORPEDO BOAT SINKS

Helsingfors, Finland—(AP)—Three of 53 and 50 men were drowned when the Finnish torpedo boat S-2 went down in a violent storm during the naval maneuvers.

A dispatch through Copenhagen and London Sunday night said a Finnish gunboat, name not given had foundered in the Gulf of Bothnia. Three other vessels have taken refuge off the Swedish and Finnish coasts.

START PARLEY FOR EUROPEAN PEACE PLANS

Fear for Safety of German
Foreign Minister at Security
Pact Conference

Locarno, Switzerland—(AP)—The conference of allied and German statesmen called to consider the conclusion of a security pact was opened here Monday. The sessions are being held in the Cantonal court-room on the second floor of the Palace of Justice.

The conference also is concerned with the question of security for one of its chief delegates—Dr. Gustav Stresemann, Germany's foreign minister. Stories of plots by German ultra Nationalists, or Fascists, against Dr. Stresemann because he had come to Locarno to discuss with the French, British and Belgian statesmen the project of formulating a security pact which will find against further breaches of the peace in Europe, without having insisted on the question of Germany's "war guilt" being added to the agenda, caused the police to assign guards to his hotel.

When he came to Locarno, Dr. Stresemann, who was accompanied by Chancellor Luther, left his special train at Bellinzona as a protective measure against possible attack and motored into this little village, where it is the purpose to endeavor to formulate a basis for the future peace of Europe.

The inaugural meeting was formally opened shortly after 11 a. m. by Mayor Rusca of Locarno. All sessions of the conference are being held in private.

The statesmen not only got down to business at the first session, but made considerable progress. They examined every article in the Rhine pact guarantees as drawn up at the London meeting of judicial experts.

A number of obscure clauses were referred back to the jurists who are meeting Monday afternoon and are expected to have their report ready Tuesday.

SEARCH YELLOW KID HOTEL FOR SLAYERS

Chicago, (AP)—For several hours early today Joseph ("Yellow Kid") Weil's luxurious hotel Shenandoah was surrounded by 50 policemen, while others searched the six story structure for trace of two men wanted for robbery and murder. A throng stood in the street while the "Yellow Kid," premier confidence man, nervously paced the lobby.

Two women friends of Fred Goetz, former University of Illinois football star, and Hymie Weiss, wanted in connection with the slaying of Barney Hernandez and the wounding of Dr. Henry Gross in a holdup were arrested but the men were not found.

The raid was the second blow at "Yellow Kid" within a few days, the "Kid" having felt himself grievously assailed when his mentality was placed at 16 years last week by Dr. W. J. Hickson of the psychopathic laboratory.

THREE MEN KILLED IN ROADHOUSE GUNFIGHT

100 Are Killed In Week's Midwestern Auto Smashups

Chicago, Ill.—(AP)—Train collisions, fires, automobile accidents and a variety of other fatal mishaps, created a death toll of more than a score, with injuries to twice that number over the weekend.

One death resulted when a passenger and freight train collided on the Florida East Coast railroad at Euclid, Fla., while 20 passengers and three trainmen were injured and others received minor cuts and bruises in a head-on crash on two passenger trains on the Houston and Texas Central railroad at Bryan, Tex.

Four members of one family, Mrs. Charles Sunlin and her three children perished when their home at Isabelle, Minn., burned. Nine persons were killed and six were injured in automobile accidents in or near Chicago one man was killed and one injured at Jacksonville, Ill., while Gene Bingham, a Racine driver, was killed, and Lou Moore was seriously hurt when their cars crashed through a fence during a race at San Francisco.

Automobile deaths in ten midwestern states passed the hundred mark for the week as follows: Illinois, 26; Ohio, 22; Indiana, 13; Michigan, 11; Minnesota, 11; Oklahoma, 7; Texas and Wisconsin, 4; Missouri, 3, and Kansas, 2.

ARGUE DOHENY OIL APPEAL IN FRISCO COURT

Counsel Maintains That Fall's
$100,000 Loan Was Purely
a Personal Affair

San Francisco—(AP)—Another step in the legal struggle involving millions of dollars in oil lease and contracts between the Edward L. Doheny interests and the government begins here Monday with the opening of a hearing on appeals from the decision of federal judges Paul J. McCormack at Los Angeles, before the United States circuit court of appeals.

In an effort to regain oil leases in the Elk Hills naval reserve in Kern co which were cancelled by the decision of Judge McCormack last May, defense counsel was prepared to present to the court a brief detailing of the grounds for appeal. Oral arguments of opposing counsel were started Monday.

Counsel for Doheny contended that Judge McCormack's decision finding that the former Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby was "passive" through all negotiations in making the leases and "was without knowledge" of the documents he signed is contrary to evidence in the lower court.

The defense also held that the $100,000 loan by Doheny to then Secretary to the Interior Fall was purely a personal transaction, and in no way involved a fraud or warranted the cancellation of the lease.

BLIMP INQUIRY COURT ADJOURNS TO THURSDAY

Lakehurst, N. J.—(AP)—Concluding the first phase of the investigation of the wreck of the airship Shenandoah with a routine verification of testimony by previous witnesses, the naval court adjourned here Monday to meet again in Washington next Thursday.

There the remaining two phases of the inquiry will be gone into, with most of the witnesses experts on design, hull and weather. Whether Col. Mitchell, former assistant chief of the army air service, is to be called with respect to his charges concerning the disaster has not yet been finally determined.

LABOR WANTS TARIFF CUTS ON TEXTILES

Deserts "High Protective"
Policy Following Wage
Reduction in Industry

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C.—Congress will be asked by the American Federation of Labor to revise the tariff downward on textiles. This is an extraordinary request for the A. F. of L., and is, paradoxically enough, not a change in labor's attitude toward the protective tariff is a good thing," said President William Green of the A. F. of L. Saturday, "because American labor is protected in its high wages until when the textile industry takes advantage of conditions entirely apart from labor factors to reduce wages then it is time to call the attention of congress to the situation and demand a lower tariff."

"I know of no single industry that has done this except textiles. Even the steel business, despite its fluctuations, has maintained its wage scales."

CALLED UNFAIR

"It is obviously unfair to labor to be taken advantage of just because operations have to be curtailed because of diminution in demand. The public has not received the benefit of these reductions in lower prices so I feel the tariff should come down. We shall go before the ways and means committee and place all the facts at their disposal and ask for a revision downward."

Mr. Green last summer issued a statement decrying the reduction in wages in the textile industry but he did not say how vigorously he intended to follow it up. His silence for several weeks has been interpreted in some quarters as the end of the issue.

Mr. Green, however, will place the matter before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor at Atlantic City next week and resolutions condemning the reduction in wages and requesting a revision of the tariff are almost certain to be adopted.

PLAN IMPORTANT

Mr. Green's effort to revise the tariff is significant. Hitherto labor has always declared that the protective tariff maintained high wages. The A. F. of L. is unwilling to denounce the protective tariff as a whole because the tariff rates in some industries are regarded as a real protection to wages. But there are other demands from various parts of the United States for a revision downward of the tariff, particularly from some agricultural regions where the rates have not been effective in keeping the American price high and where the cost of commodities purchased by the farmer consumer has been high.

The Coolidge administration has made up its mind to resist any tariff revision whatsoever it being unwilling to recognize even the just claims for revision here and there, because it might open up the whole tariff law to amendment. And just now the administration is anxious to get its tax bills put through the next session and postpone, if possible, the controversy on the tariff until the congressional elections of 1926 are over.

SEARCH STONE MOUNTAIN FOR MISSING AVIATOR

Huntington, Pa.—(AP)—Additional men left Monday to join Monday night's search party on Stone Mountain, 14 miles north of here, in the hunt for Charles H. Ames, the missing mail plane pilot. Among the number were the leaders of the party of raccoon hunters who reported having heard at midnight last Thursday the distinct whir of an airplane followed shortly afterward by a crash among the mountain trees.

WESTERN LABORER KILLS WIFE, SELF AND CHILD

RETIRING LEGION HEADS

Birge Hammers Regents For Refusing Donations

Madison—(AP)—The further course of alumni of the University of Wisconsin who are seeking to solve the gift situation will be decided here Oct. 17.

The special committee of the Wisconsin Alumni association will meet on that date to resume its investigation into the resolution by the board of regents, rejecting donations from incorporated educational foundations in the future. Additional testimony will be taken, if it is available, and a subcommittee will report on the organization and functions of the various endowments from which funds for research are obtained.

Research leaders of the university told of serious consequences that they said would result from the regents' action. In the two-day meeting of the committee closing late Sunday, they asserted that faculty members would be lost, research destroyed and the university reduced to a "glorified high school."

The regents were defended for their action only by William T. Ely, editor of the Capital Times, who saw a menace to academic freedom in the acceptance of gifts from foundations financed by large corporations. Daniel Grady and Miss Zona Gale, members of the board of regents, did not appear. Mr. Grady declined saying, however, that he would answer any written questions. Miss Gale was not reached.

President Emeritus E. A. Birge, Dr. Stephen Moulton Babcock, inventor of the Babcock milk tester, Dean C. S. Slichter of the graduate school, and others testified that research was necessary to maintain university standards, that it required money and that funds could be provided best by foundations.

Dr. Birge criticized the regents for acting without consulting the new president, Glenn Frank.

MIDWEST STATES OPEN FIGHT ON DRAINAGE CANAL

Attorney General Ekers Tells
Supreme Court Why Lake
Water Should Not Be Diverted

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Minnesota, Ohio and Pennsylvania asked the supreme court Monday for permission to join Wisconsin in its fight against the diversion of water by the Chicago Sanitary district.

The states would have the court prohibit any permanent diversion unless the canal constructed by the drainage district is placed under federal control and then only the diversion of such quantities as the court found necessary for navigation.

Attorney General Dougherty of Michigan declared Monday that "Michigan is in accord with the proceedings being taken in the action by Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio and Pennsylvania," but that he deemed it advisable to institute a separate action on the part of Michigan and that such a step would be taken in the near future.

Attorney General Herman L. Ekers of Wisconsin, who filed the motion, pointed out that the supreme court had recently decided in favor of the United States and against the sanitary district of Chicago, holding the government was entitled to an injunction from the lowering of the lakes.

"The amended complaint," he said "adds a new clause of action for the public nuisance created by dumping sewage into the canal and the Des Plaines and Illinois rivers and asks to enjoin the taking of any more water than absolutely necessary for the improvement of navigation."

NEW LABOR HEAD GIVEN OVATION

William Green Opens American Federation of Labor
Convention at Atlantic City

Atlantic City, N. J.—(AP)—President William Green stirred the delegates of the American Federation of Labor to great enthusiasm Monday at the opening of its forty-fifth annual convention by declaring the federation had just begun to fight for the child labor amendment.

Mr. Green, who succeeded the late Samuel Gompers, for more than 40 years head of the organization, received a warm welcome when he called the convention to order. He said that the work of organized labor was the work of humanity and that he purposed to mobilize the economic strength of every city, town and village in the country.

The delegates cheered when Mr. Green declared that the organized labor movement had been handicapped and limited because some of the courts had seen fit to usurp their powers in granting injunctions.

Mr. Green paid an eloquent tribute to Mr. Gompers and said he had been a great crusader in the cause of human rights.

Bentley, Madison attorney was appointed general counsel for the Wisconsin League of Municipalities at a meeting of the executive committee of the league in session here Saturday. He will advise city and village governments in connection with the home rule amendment and its effect and will represent the league in all civil actions seeking constructions of the new law.

One of Mr. Bentley's first tasks will be to appear in a case which will be started before the state supreme court involving the effect of home rule on control of Milwaukee school finances.

DRAIN OPENS MEETING

Veterans Bureau Head Praised
Decentralization of Bureau's Activities

Omaha, Nebr.—(AP)—With the question "What will the American legion do about Col. William Mitchell" and his charges of inefficiency in the navy, the liveliest topic of political conversation, the seventh annual convention of the legion and auxiliary organizations formally opened here Monday.

Veterans of the World war here lined up Monday for a fight on the endorsement of Col. William Mitchell's recommendations to congress for a separate air service department.

Disappointment at the colonel's inability to attend was assuaged somewhat by an announcement that a message from him would be read before the gatherings. Failure to invite him was regarded by the colonel's friends as an attempt to keep him from carrying his fight to the floor of the convention. Orders for Col. Mitchell to appear before the army inspector general at Washington prevented his coming to Omaha.

GETS SET BACK

The movement of Colonel Mitchell's friends to have his demand for a separate air service department put into a favorable resolution was given a setback Monday night when the national legislation committee agreed to rule that no business may be brought before the convention that does not bear directly upon problems of the former service man. This forecast, Mitchell's friends said that the Mitchell charges will be held strictly in committee.

Many friends of Col. Mitchell were predicting he would be able to win the national commanderyship of the legion if he could come to the convention in person. Frank Warner of Norfolk, Neb., who also has been mentioned for the commanderyship may introduce a resolution Monday asking that Col. Mitchell be allowed to attend the convention despite the fact the army department has asked his presence in Washington for the start of court martial proceedings.

The political pot also started to boil in the American legion auxiliary camp with Mrs. Donald MacRae of Council Bluffs, Ia., and Mrs. Eugene Fenlon of Devils Lake, N. D., being the two outstanding candidates for national president.

RAPS PROTECTOR

Laws under which a war might be conducted "with no profiteers and slackers" was urged by James A. Drain, National commander of the American legion in an address before the national legion convention here Monday. The surest way to preserve peace in America, the commander said, is adequate preparedness.

"The word of the American Legion has always and always shall be pledged for peace," he declared. "But we know the world cannot have peace simply by wishing for it and denying the possibility of war. We know peace must rest upon international justice and preparedness. International justice by the best means available, preparedness, based upon a sound military policy for the country, a policy consistent with its history, its ideals and resources."

"The American legion believes peace time preparedness for a war."

CHURCH TRIES TO KEEP PACE WITH PROGRESS

Dr. Peabody Describes Growth of Congregational Church in Anniversary Sermon

Although the 55 years during which the First Congregational church has existed have been an era of wonderful progress, the future holds out much greater opportunities for religious strides, Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor, declared in his sermon at the opening of the diamond jubilee week of the parish Sunday morning. His subject was "A Church of Christ Growing With Its Community," dealing first with the fascinating history of the past and then with a vision of the future.

These are the factors which Dr. Peabody sees in the religious program of the years to come:

Recognition of the essential unity and interdependence of the whole church of Christ in a program that will bring the world to Christ.

Return of the tide of private and public prayer which lifted the earlier church to strength and power.

A returning tide of love for the church and the living God, with marvelous things accomplished when that tide moves out.

Brotherly interdependence of the churches of Christ in all nations, each contributing some special gift to further an understanding of the principles of Jesus Christ.

TEACH WAY TO CHRIST

"India is a nation of ideals and the Chinese are lovers of peace," as America has been called for its efficiency," said Dr. Peabody. "Some day we will see the Christian church of India teaching us ideals and the Christian church of China teaching us peace, thus helping us to enter into the fullness of Christ. There is going to come an answer to the prayer of Paul that the church might be able to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth, length, height and depth of the love of Christ."

The service opened with a procession of the Sunday school children and a talk to them by the pastor in which he told a few of the interesting incidents which led to the founding of the church in 1870. A liturgical service arranged by Mrs. H. E. Peabody was used. The choir appeared in vestments and sang the anthem, "Ho, Everyone That Thirsteth" (McFarlane). This service opened the diamond jubilee week which is being held jointly with the annual sessions of the Wisconsin Congregational conference here. The next anniversary event will be a historical pageant at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at Lawrence Memorial chapel. The program also includes a reception to other churches of the city at 8 o'clock Friday evening, a second anniversary service next Sunday morning and a luncheon to past members at 1 o'clock that day.

Two former pastors of the church still are living. Dr. Peabody announced. They are the Rev. Frederick T. House, now a minister at Worcester, Mass., and Dr. John Faville of Lake Mills. A letter of congratulation and greeting from the Rev. Mr. House was read and announcement made that Dr. Faville would be here for part of the celebration.

GILMORE A PIONEER

Dr. Peabody's sermon included a number of historical facts taken largely from the minutes of the early church kept by Jesse Fuller as clerk. He told how James Gilmore, a charter member, came up the Fox river in a yawl until he reached in May, 1850 what was known as the Grand Chute, with Appleton and Lavesburg nearby. He came upon a deep ravine and was surprised to hear the sound of a bell. He learned that a Methodist institution of learning had been established here by Amos Lawrence and that a congregation had been established in the basement of the "seminary" building. Mr. Gilmore liked Appleton and decided to live here. He sent for his wife and established a home.

RETURNS EARLY FAVORS

Dr. Peabody told how churches in the east helped the Appleton one to establish itself and how the mission boards eventually were repaid. Today, he pointed, the Appleton church is doing the same for others. The missionary work carried on in the early days was quite effective. At one time there were 11 Sunday schools conducted by the Congregationalists in the community or near its boundary, with 1,600 members in all.

On Dec. 1, 1852 women were permitted for the first time to take part in prayer or speak in public meetings. It was about this time Mrs. Anna Proctor joined and she still lives in this city and is a member, considered the oldest living member in number of years enrolled. Strong personalities were developed because of the independent form of church government which the Congregationalists use.

Comparisons and contrasts mentioned by the pastor indicated there was more prayer by the average member than now, more democracy than with the present 1,443 members, more of the evangelistic spirit, more love and devotion for the church and more acceptance of the sacrifice. There was more narrow competition as to denominations, however, a condition which has faded to quite an extent. The world and customs have no pay plan.

DEALERS NOT FLOODED WITH GRAPE ORDERS

There may be people in this city who like to cook up a few bottles of home brew now and then, but there are not so many who are making their cellar stock from grapes, unless they are fortunate to have a grape arbor in their back yard. The reason is the high cost of grapes, and especially the blue Concord grapes, for which there seems to be a preference. However, blue grapes are really no higher this year than they have been previous years, but the quantity of grapes, needed to make any appreciable showing of bottled stuff, costs quite a bit, it is said.

Blue grapes are selling for 45 cents and 55 cents a basket in Appleton fruit and vegetable stores. There has not been a very heavy sale of grapes this year, it was said, although quite a number of people are buying them for jelly. California red grapes have been popular with Appleton people during the summer and fall, and retail at two pounds for 25 cents.

KEEP HAND OFF HORN BUTTON

Chief Prim Sees Much That Is Good in Milwaukee's Campaign Against Noisemakers

The campaign being waged in Milwaukee for safe driving includes features which might well be followed in Appleton, according to Chief of Police George T. Prim.

"Use your brakes, not your horn" is a slogan which has made the streets of Milwaukee safer than streets of many cities twice its size.

Persons are arrested for blowing their horn before applying their brakes, the basis of the new law being that many drivers blow their horn, do not slow up, and after a crash has occurred, defend themselves by the statement "Well, I blew my horn."

Uptown Milwaukee has a noticeable quiet which is distinctly pleasing. The continual blowing of horns eliminated from the other street noises, frees the city from one of the most annoying results of an age of automobiles.

An accident in particular is known to have been directly due to horn blowing. A pedestrian became confused when crossing the street by the sound of a horn. The driver pushed the electric button, not the brake pedal, the pedestrian was killed, and the driver was not prosecuted because he had sounded his horn. The campaign now being waged is the result of that death.

How many Appleton drivers depend on their horns to get pedestrians out of their path? Try driving a car without a horn and you will see how much better chance you give the other fellow.

CONCERT SERIES OPENS NEXT MONDAY EVENING

An erroneous impression has gone out, according to Carl J. Waterman, dean of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, that the first number of the Community Artist series will be presented this evening. The series will be opened on Monday evening, Oct. 12, by Queena Marie, noted soloist, according to Mr. Waterman. Tickets for the series are now on sale and are in considerable demand.

CHANGED, SAID DR. PEABODY, AND THIS CITY ITSELF HAS CHANGED

The church has kept pace with progress, however, and is trying to exert a constantly wider influence. Its missionary spirit still burns clearly and more members are giving toward this cause than in the old days. The church now has its own missionaries in northern Wisconsin. In the south and in Japan, Evangelism of the old type is not followed so much, but the pastor's classes, the vacation Bible school and other methods are providing a more thorough religious training for the children. The gospel has overflowed to the city, for the members were among the leaders in establishing the Y. M. C. A. and are active in its maintenance and its people are helping the women's club, the civic associations and other community enterprises. The church also is doing what it can in the promotion of world peace. Withal it saves the same Lord preaches the same gospel and works to attain the same end as of old.

17 LOCKS HELP FOX RIVER BOATS

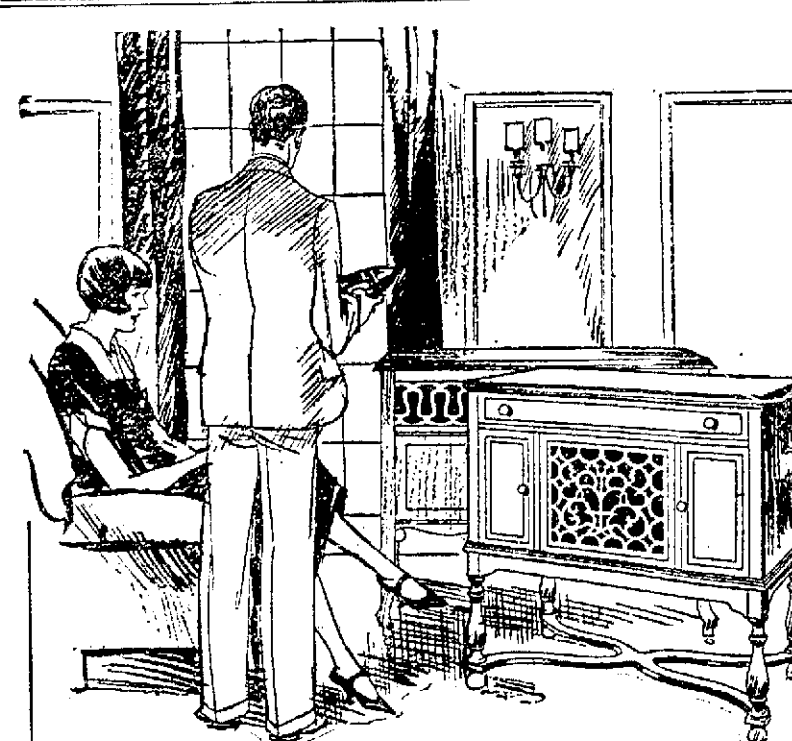

Navigation from Green Bay to Lake Winnebago Not Easy Task for Sailors

It is a long and tedious journey for coal barges and other boats plying up and down the Fox river between Oakkosh and Green Bay as there are 17 locks between Neenah and Green Bay and treacherous channels in both the river and in Lake Winnebago, but the trip can be accomplished if one has the patience to chug along on a coal barge from eight to fifteen hours. The distance between Green Bay and Oakkosh via the water route is 55 miles, and the "Herman Hutz," the speed demon of the river, makes this mileage in the record time of eight hours. Other craft not as powerful as the Hutz, or which must depend upon a tug for locomotion will take nearly 15 hours to make the trip.

The Fox river known throughout the state as one of the most beautiful and picturesque streams of the middle west, holds all manner of terrors for the riverman. A drop of 122 feet takes place between Lake Winnebago and Green Bay. Seventeen locks between the lake and the bay are necessary as a part of the boat channel. Because of the many rapids and dams which would otherwise effectively bar all navigation.

BUILD FRAME TO HOLD PHOTOS OF "Y" LEADERS

A large frame to contain the individual pictures of several men prominent in Y. M. C. A. affairs here is being built by C. L. Boynton, activities secretary of the local association. Members of the building committee of the "Y" of ten years ago, members of the board of directors of that time, and members of the present board of directors will have their pictures placed in the frame. It then will be hung in the directors room as part of the tenth anniversary celebration of the local association from Oct. 12 to 16.

SHARP DECREASE IN NEW BUILDING HERE LAST MONTH

Fewer Permits Are Issued and Cost of Construction Far Lower Than August Total

Building activity in Appleton during September slumped considerably in comparison with the preceding month, the monthly report of George Peetler, building inspector, shows. Permits authorizing the construction of buildings at an estimated cost of $57,730 were issued in September, while the estimated cost of buildings for which permits were granted during August was $185,850.

Permits for 15 residences and 20 garages at an estimated cost of $64,600 and $3,870, respectively, were issued last month. Permits for 22 miscellaneous building projects estimated to cost $19,260 also were issued.

More residences, garages and miscellaneous jobs in August in addition to a larger estimated cost of several projects, raised the valuation of building enterprises for which permits were issued in August.

Permits during August were granted for 17 residences, 24 garages and 30 miscellaneous jobs, the estimated cost of which was $82,100, $6,335 and $97,415, respectively.

The building inspector made 79 inspections in September.

Almost 600 mothers and daughters of Appleton and vicinity heard Frank H. Gamel, noted boyology worker, in his last appearance in this city Friday evening at First Congregational church. The church auditorium was packed. Mr. Gamel talked on Life's Greatest Function and illustrated the talk with motion pictures.

Mr. Gamel intends to make Appleton his headquarters for a few days, although his 2-week's visit officially closed Friday evening. He is awaiting word from several towns in the vicinity of Appleton which desire to hear him and he probably will spend a few days in New London and Kaukauna before he leaves this part of the state. A sum the total of $750 by voluntary contributions from people interested in his work and more is being forwarded to the local Y. M. C. A. daily. Local officials announce that contributions still are being accepted.

Final reports of Mr. Gamel's work show that he interviewed 115 boys personally and talked to 1,900 fathers and sons and 1,600 mothers and daughters during his two weeks in the city.

MILWAUKEE SHRINERS PLAN GREAT TEMPLE

A sketch of the proposed new Tenth Temple in Milwaukee, which will be one of the finest in the United States, has been received by O. P. Schlafer. The temple will be built on the Moorish style of architecture, and will have numerous domes and minarets on the roof. The architects intend to make use of much color and rich ornaments. The ornamentation will be especially noticeable around the great arch of the main entrance. Arches will surround the windows in various forms conforming to the old styles used in eastern architecture.

The temple will be located on Grand ave. at Third-st. and will extend northward for a whole block to Wells st. The cost of the building was not stated in the sketch received by Mr. Schlafer, but it probably will be well over $2,000,000.

BAND IS FEATURE NUMBER OF COURSE

THE United States Marine band, pride of all of Uncle Sam's musical organizations, will play the third number of Community Artist series here on Monday, Nov. 2. No attraction in Appleton in years has created more interest than this. For years the marine band has been considered one of the finest of all musical organizations in the world and under the leadership of Captain Santelmann it has earned the right to be known as the premier band of this country.

The Marine band tooted its first note on July 11, 1798 when it was a mere fife and drum corps. Every president of the United States, excepting only George Washington, has heard the great band, and maybe even George heard the stirring notes of fifes and drums during the hectic days of the Revolution.

The band now is composed of 65 musicians. It is the President's own band and can leave Washington only with his permission. About one-third of the membership of the band is composed of soloists of marked ability.

ROHAN RETURNS FROM SCHOOL HEADS' MEETING

Ben J. Rohan, city superintendent of schools, returned Saturday from Madison where he attended the convention of superintendents of schools on Thursday and Friday.

One of the most important tasks was the distribution of copies of self-rating score cards for teachers in schools. Prof. F. S. Clapp headed the committee in charge of this work which took approximately six months. This work is decidedly helpful to teachers, Mr. Rohan said.

Among the other important committee reports made were those on constructive work, vocational education, manual training in elementary and junior high school, religious education, code of ethics and interscholastic contests and tournaments. Each of these committees were retained to do more work on their subjects.

Here is the way to glistening teeth that dentists now advise

It removes that dingy film from your teeth. It clears cloudy teeth and firms the Gums. Start today — why wait?

MODERN science now tells how to brighten dingy teeth and give toneless gums a healthy coral tint. A new way widely urged by leading dentists of the world. Different in formula, action and effect, it does what no other method has yet attained—removes and combats, without harsh grit, the dangerous film that covers teeth and which old type dentifrices do not fight successfully.

Run your tongue across your teeth. You will feel that film. Under it are the prettier, whiter teeth you envy in others. If you combat that film your teeth will quickly glisten delightfully. Ask your druggist for a tube of Pepsodent. Results will amaze you.

The enemy of teeth and gums. Film is the great enemy of teeth and gums; a chief cause, according to world's dental authorities, of pyorrhea and most tooth and gum troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. It holds food in contact with teeth, inviting the acid that causes decay.

You can't have prettier, whiter teeth; you can't have healthier teeth unless you combat that film.

Mail the coupon now. Don't expect the same results from old type dentifrices. Begin beautifying your teeth today.

A HOLLYWOOD FAMILY

The death of Mrs. Carrie Lemieux Turpin brings to the reading public a picture of that delightful screen comedian with queer eyes, Ben Turpin, spending months at her bedside administering to her wants, neglecting his work and all things else, for her comfort during her last months of life.

It is a story that would cause no comment were it not the story of a household in Hollywood. How can it be that this strange city that has earned a reputation for moral laxity, infidelity, frequent divorce, and marital disagreement can supply the story of loyalty and devotion worthy of a middle-western Babbit.

The public will be interested in the fact that Hollywood has supplied the two extremes in family life, and it will take little discernment to fill in the middle. The ordinary family that pursues its unimpeachable course is of little interest to the reading public and there are thousands in Hollywood who have never the delight of wallowing in printers ink. It requires something spectacular to win newspaper notice in a city like Hollywood where the competition for publicity is so keen. Perhaps after all Hollywood is quite an ordinary community with a superstratum of temperamental people that catches the public eye.

VAST FINANCIAL RESOURCES

One of the principal factors back of the most extraordinary stock markets which the country has seen in years is the plenteousness of money available for the use of bullish operators and in the hands of people who are seeking investments.

Scarcely a day passes which does not see new high record prices established for some securities, many of which are selling at figures quite out of proportion to their dividend distributions. In such cases the buyers are looking for something of importance, which will justify the purchase of stocks, rather than the quarterly dividends which they receive. The fact is, many common stocks, paying small dividends, are much more active and command higher prices than preferred stocks which have paid larger dividends for years. Current valuations of such issues are determined by increased earnings and by the operations of pools who see an opportunity to run up the prices.

Not all of the common issues, however, have maintained the high prices at which they have sold. They were evidently carried too far by the excited buying of people who paid more attention to the operations of other people than to the earnings of the company whose stock they bought.

The vast amount of money available for operations of this sort appears to be assured for some time to come. The usual increase in the demand for money in the autumn is referred to by New York financial authorities with extreme satisfaction. They say that never before in history were the banks in such strong condition or more able to take care of credit needs. Credit for all legitimate business should continue comfortable.

The banks could extend themselves greatly, were it possible for the need to arise, without calling on the Reserve banks for any large degree of assistance. The plans of the government for retrenchment and for tax reduction are factors tending to greater ease, in the long run, in money rates. They also tend to create a wider and more positive employment of capital in industry.

The Wall Street Journal points out that money rates in the United States are now the lowest in the world. Rates in Europe are gradually creeping up as conditions improve. Taking things at long range, the business world has every right to assume there is a long period of easy money ahead which should result in a great forward surge in the production of material wealth and comfort everywhere. The effects will be felt here first, where conditions are stable, and extend gradually to other countries as things improve and hatreds subside.

A NEW NATIONAL ROAD SYSTEM

The recent action of the Interstate Highway Board in designating a national system of roads covering the United States and touching every state capital is a reminder that an even more ambitious project is being considered. The Pan-American Road Congress, which met in Buenos Aires October 3 at the invitation of the Argentine government, had for one of its objects the construction of a Pan-American highway which will unite the countries that compose the Pan-American Union. The United States and a score of other American republics had representatives at the meeting.

These plans for highway systems connecting points thousands of miles distant direct attention to the long journeys that are now taken in automobiles. It has become a commonplace matter for motorists to cross the United States. The network of roads mapped out at the Washington meeting provides eight transcontinental routes from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific and nine from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada. Even in the Old World, where progress in road building is far behind that in America, long automobile journeys are being taken. One of the current magazines, for example, describing a motor trip from Western Europe to India.

The Washington committee did well in arranging to mark the interstate routes designated with uniform signs. Some private associations of highway promoters have done this in the case of such interstate roads as the Lincoln Highway and the Susquehanna Trail, and it has served a good purpose, guiding motorists through towns and past intersections and making it unnecessary to stop and inquire directions.

The plans prepared at Washington will not be carried into effect, of course, for some time. It is not to be imagined that in a few months there will be eight unbroken ribbons of pavement extending from coast to coast. Not even the Lincoln Highway has been paved in its entirety, although it has been a well traveled transcontinental route for a number of years.

Only a program has been prepared by the Interstate Highway Board, but in its adoption a step forward has been taken in the facilitation of long distance motor travel.

DELINQUENCY

A New Jersey city reports, through the Playground and Recreation Association of America, that 500 boys were organized into a municipal baseball league and given playing fields.

The cost of repairing broken windows, which had been $150 the year before, dropped to $17.70.

This would seem to indicate that, if boys can be given something interesting to do—a chance to play, to work off their surplus energy—there is less delinquency.

And, since we adults are the ones who can give them these things, it also would seem that when we have a high juvenile delinquency rate it is pretty much our own fault.

USE YOUR JAW AND SAVE YOUR TEETH

The preservation of the teeth through the prevention of decay is a much deeper problem than the late tooth brushing or cleaning campaign would lead one to suppose. It is fundamentally a question of nutrition, and therefore a medical question, not merely a dental question. In order to save a child's teeth we must begin with the nutrition of the child's mother from her infancy and remedy defects thereof right on through her life and up to the time of the weaning of her child and from that point onward the nutrition of the child himself must be controlled in care of the knowledge we have in hand. Nor is the light of the knowledge we have in hand. Nor is it this anywhere near as simple a matter as it may seem at first sight. It involves the dissemination of knowledge, education, enlightenment, and that is always a hard task. It involves injury to or loss of a vast amount of business which has been built up on the false foundation of esthetic cleanliness, and what is a snag which can and will choke off such an educational movement if the people play the customary dormant role.

Yes, yes, everybody agrees there may be some sense in all this, but let's have a diet list or something tangible to go by in this business of correcting nutrition.

There isn't gonna be no diet lists in this campaign. Diet lists are 99 per cent baloney unless they are made to individual measure. Your interruption of such a flow of lucid language, to ask such a question, makes me think, son, with the gentleman whose reminiscences, delivered in the ceremony of farewell to the old Madison Square Garden, were frequently interrupted by cries of "Baloney, Joe!" and "That's applesauce, Joe!" from the denizens of the gallery, that there may be some good, after all, in this birth control movement. Please endeavor to remain quiet and avoid shuffling your feet and we'll bring on the food all in due time.

Very well, then. Good night, sir.

As I was about to remark before the usher threw the young man out, in all of the late tooth brushing movement there has been nothing or practically nothing said about nutrition. This fundamental aspect of the question has been omitted from the campaign and ignored by the dentists, nurses, health authorities, teachers, manufacturers and others who have carried on the big oral cleanup. Perhaps that is only natural, for in the first place most of 'em knew nothing about nutrition themselves and in the next place if they knew anything about it they could scarcely make the children understand lessons in nutrition when the children are so carefully kept in ignorance of human physiology in general. Let me say right here, folks, that if geography were taught on the same scale with physiology, the average citizen would never be able to find his way home from the movies after dark without a guide. But geography is not taught that way, as there is no merchantable advantage in making people think they must reserve accommodations at Timbuktu if they plan to travel in Yucatan, unless it might be to the railroads, though it would seem they're doing the best they can in a quiet way with the maps they issue.

Some of the important principles in good nutrition, as formulated by Dr. E. V. McCollum (the decent stand for vitamin) are—

1. Consume at least a quart of pure fresh raw milk daily.
2. Let the leafy vegetables be an essential part of the daily ration.
3. Take a moderate amount of raw vegetables daily.

In explanation I might add that milk is produced by cows or goats, not by dairymen; the leafy vegetables include cabbage, lettuce, spinach, asparagus, parsley, mint, onions (particularly the green tops), celery, all kinds of greens, etc.; among the raw vegetables are potato, carrot, beet, turnip, tomato, cucumber, parsnip, green peas, string beans.

IT DOESN'T MATTER

We are prone to think in summer Of the joys we had at New Year's When the sooty snow was covering all the ground;

Say, we sure are "on the bumper," And a dinch we'd live but few years if hot weather should just keep on sticking 'round.

But when wintry blasts are blowing And the hills upward climbing, Strike terror at the tap-roots of the soul.

All the joy is gone from snowing, And you do not feel like rhyming 'Bout its beauties when the bin is out of coal.

TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

THE LOVE AFFAIRS OF WRITERS

The suggestion was made in connection with the airing a few months ago of the domestic affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bennett that writers, and Mrs. Bennett, are likely to get into like affairs. But it is not at all sure that this is true of either writers or actors. If Arnold Bennett had not been a literary celebrity in whom millions are interested it is not at all likely that the wife from whom he had separated would have written a series of newspaper articles about him, telling the public about his faults and shortcomings. No one would care to read those things about an unknown lawyer or doctor or plumber or business man. For every case like that of the Bennetts there may be a dozen cases in other professions that are never heard of. Scandal, like death, loves a shining mark.

The book written by Mrs. Arnold Bennett about her one-time husband has created quite a stir in English literary circles and it probably is entertaining reading. So far as I know it is not available in America but excerpts from its material as it appeared in newspaper form have come through from time to time.

MANY HAPPY-SOME SAD

In proportion to their numbers there are probably just as many happy marriages among writers as among any other class. There are a fair number of deathless romances among them like that of Robert and Elizabeth Browning, but the cases of domestic affairs of writers that went wrong usually get the lion's share of attention.

That of Shakespeare and Ann Hathaway is classic. They somehow weathered the matrimonial gale to the end because in those days there was practically nothing else to do, but it is a little sad to think that the author of perhaps the greatest love idyll of all time, "Romeo and Juliet," was in his own domestic life a disillusioned man.

In America there are a number of examples of the same thing. The late John Fox, Jr., gave palpitation of the heart to millions of sentimental readers with his love scenes in such books as "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" and "The Trail of the Lone-some Pine." But in his personal life things were entirely different. He married an actress and built a large mansion for her in Virginia. He had everything money could buy but she longed for the bright lights and thrived of life in the country mansion. She ran off with another and the author never wholly recovered from the blow although he continued to depict the tender scenes which were no longer for him personally.

There is no moral in this except perhaps that what the public imagines a popular writer's life is and the real facts are often two very different things.

Just A Moment.

Club Opens Classes For Fall Season

Monday evening is the official opening for fall classes of Appleton Women's club for 1925-26, according to club authorities. All classes are to be under way during the week and club officials hope to have all activities running nicely by the end of the week. The first class of the year will be that of the music department from 7 to 9 o'clock Monday evening.

Anyone interested in any form of musical entertainment or activity is invited to attend Monday evening's meeting and bring suggestions to help the organization. The work of the group will include musical games, musical contests, ukulele work, glee club, quartet, victrola programs and many other informal musical affairs. Miss Elsie Mau is in charge of this work, which is practically the same as the afternoon musical department, running for several years. The new classes is primarily for girls and women who are busy afternoons.

An important change in this year's program is the howling hour starting at 7 o'clock instead of 7:30 in the evening. This is necessary because of a men's league which uses the Elk alleys at 9 o'clock sharp. Club officials urge the girls to be at the alleys at 7 o'clock sharp or they may lose their chance to howl. Another change for this week only is the Dramatic workshop. This work which usually comes on Wednesday evening will be on Thursday evening the first week.

The opening week's program follows:

Monday—Music department and glee club, 7-9; howling Elk and Arcade alleys, 7-9; social club, 7:30 to 9.

Tuesday—Handcraft 7-9; gymnasium class of high school, 7:30-9; social and folk dancing at high school, 8:30-9:30; Wednesday, U. C. T. club 7:30-9:30; Thursday Bridge class, 7:30-9:30; games at high school (volleyball); bowling alleys, 7:40-9:30.

Friday—Supper club, 4-9.

Sunday—Open-house program.

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHERTON TO BEATRICE SUMMERS

At last, dear Bee, I am on my way to Hollywood and you. I just came down here and stopped over at Leslie's request to do the society stuff of attending her farewell party before she left for Pittsburgh.

I shall take the train from here, leaving next week Tuesday, but I can't resist the inclination of telling you all about that gorgeous dance while it is still fresh in my mind.

I never knew before that money and its lavish use could make anything as beautiful as the rooms at the hotel where the party was given. Flowers everywhere, roses shed their petals and their fragrance indiscriminately over an assemblage composed of more beautiful women than I have ever seen together before. When you looked at them you forgot that there was such things as poverty and sorrow and misery and pain in the world.

Gowns and jewels of undreamed magnificence were on every side. Smiles everywhere.

Do you know, Bee, I almost felt that I did not belong to that gay crowd, at all. I had never been among such wealth and fashion before, and yet Leslie seemed a part of it. It was her rightful place.

After a while I sought out Sydney Carson, for he too looked like a strange soul wandering in an unknown sphere, and that is the way I felt.

"Do you really like this?" I blurted out, before I remembered that Sydney Carson had been for the last six years—ever since he had left college—probably one of the most popular bachelors in the United States.

He looked at me a moment in silence as if he was wondering what I was trying to get at and then said, "Why, yes, I like it very much. Indeed, why shouldn't I? I love to look at beautiful women exquisitely dressed. I like the brilliancy of the lights and the fragrance of the flowers. I enjoy the gay repartee and the exchange of compliments. I like to know that my friends are prosperous and happy. And this speaks better than any tongue of the success and happiness of Jack and Leslie."

"Well, of course, you may like all this," I protested. "It is true that as a spectacle or pageant I have never seen anything that was finer even on the stage. But what I want to know is, is this the sort of thing that you would seek if you were hunting that which would give you the best possible time?"

"No, I don't think it is," he said hesitatingly. "The best times I have ever had in my life were when with one, two or three of my real friends I sat before an open fireplace while the wind and storm of winter was raging without, or beneath a harvest moon on a warm summer night, and talked or was silent, as my mood dictated, knowing that either mood would be understood by those about me."

Edwin Geussenhauer, German, Is Studying Foundries in Kaukauna

Kaukauna—The German mark is gradually regaining its lost standing according to Edwin G. Geussenhauer of Neumuenster, Germany, who has been in Wisconsin for several months studying and inspecting foundries and getting ideas to be used in operating the large plant owned by his father in his native city.

Mr. Geussenhauer is a relative of Joseph Jansen of this city and is living with him at present. He arrived in the United States on July 29 and has been in Wisconsin since that date. He had planned to sail for Germany on the U. S. S. Cleveland Oct. 5, but owing to ill health, he has postponed his return to a future date. This is his second visit to America.

"Ed," as he is known by his newly made friends in Kaukauna, commented on the width of the streets, the expanse of land and the abundance of automobiles. "In Germany," he said, "We cannot afford to play golf because the price of land is so high that only the very richest men could afford to own a course. It costs more for the lot than to build the home itself. This same scarcity of land is the fact that makes people build their streets narrower and to build their homes closer together and higher. Conservation of land has been taught to the people."

The reason that the factories in Germany could not produce the large number of cars per day that the American manufacturers are producing is because the raw material and money are not available, also because it is not so easy to sell an automobile to a person in Germany, it was explained.

Social Items

Kaukauna—About 25 relatives attended a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mink. The reunion was held on Sunday afternoon and evening. A 6 o'clock dinner was served in honor of Mr. Mink's birthday. Mr. and Mrs. George Drewson, and son George, Jr., of Port Atkinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Mylin Behnke of Neenah were out of town guests.

The ladies of Brookway Memorial Methodist church will hold their fall rummage sale Oct. 7 and 8 in the Elworth home.

Mrs. John Behler entertained about 15 friends at a 6 o'clock luncheon Sunday evening. The evening was spent in playing cards.

The regular meeting of the Catholic Order of Foresters, Holy Cross circle, will hold its semi-monthly meeting Monday evening in the North Side Forester hall. Installation of Officers will feature the evening.

The Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday evening in the high school. Routine business will be disposed of.

BOYS ATHLETIC CLUB
STAGES BOXING SHOW

Kaukauna—A large crowd attended the amateur boxing show staged by the Groundhog Athletic club Friday evening in their clubrooms in Wisconsin-ave. The fights were of the usual fine caliber and the crowd was well pleased with the entertainment. "Bull" Pahnke said that he could show many a professional the type of battle that the fans like to see.

The purpose of this athletic club, which consists of youngsters from 6 to 14 years of age, is to promote amateur athletics of all kinds. Boxing and wrestling between members take up all the time now, but plans are being made for the forming of a basketball team. Clean, wholesome sport is the aim of these boys, and the several older men are backing them and supervising their work.

150 EXPECTED TO ENROLL
IN VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Kaukauna—According to A. T. Hudson, principal of the city vocational school, 150 youths have already signed for this year's term, and it is expected that there will be at least 50 more soon. The police department is checking up on those students of school age who are not entered in the city school. The law says that any child under 16 years of age who is not registered in some full time school must attend vocational school half time, that is, two and a half days per week. Children from 16 to 18 not entered in some full time school must attend vocational school one day or 8 hours per week during the day. Night school will not count toward making up the regular number of hours a student must put in each week.

BREAKS WHIST

Kaukauna—Mrs. Frank Mink, big, 71, fell while dancing about her home Friday morning and suffered a broken wrist as a result. This is the first injury of a serious nature to befall Mrs. Mink during her entire life, and she is inclined to be little the injury.

Kaukauna fans will be able to follow the game almost as closely as if they were in Pittsburgh or Washington. Every ball, every strike, every hit, every play will be announced and there will be only a second or two between the time of the actual play on the field and the announcement in Kaukauna.

The games start at 1:30, Kaukauna time. The first game will be played next Wednesday.

RED AND WHITE
TROUTED 20-0
BY WEST DEPERE

New London Is Outclassed and Outweighed in Opening Football Game of Season

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Outclassed generally in weight and experience, though battling to the end, the high school football team went down to defeat in the opener of the season with West De Pere 20-0.

The game began at 2:30 when West De Pere kicked off to New London. New London was stopped on the 40-yard line, and after four brave but fruitless attempts lost the ball on downs. West De Pere advanced ten yards and lost the ball on a fumble, which was recovered by Seims of New London, and was followed by a punt. West De Pere scooped up the ball and came around left end for 30 yards, advancing play after play, to New London's 10-yard line. Then, by a series of line plungers, the De Pere Orange and Black forced the ball across the goal line for the first touchdown of the game, exactly 7 minutes after the game started. Kicking goal brought the score up to 7-0. The pigskin was then forced up and down the field, Lang being substituted for Cochrane at right tackle by coach Koten just before the end of the first quarter.

ALMOST AT LINE
The first of the second quarter was the only occasion when the Red and White threatened to score. The team had worked the ball down to West De Pere's 10-yard line, and, being held, tried a dropkick, which missed the cross bars by two feet. Borchardt was then substituted for Beckert at right guard by Koten. The first half ended with the score 7 to 0 for the visitors, and with the ball in their possession on New London's 40-yard line.

New London kicked off at the beginning of the second half, and West De Pere advanced to the defenders' 25-yard line. Then followed the most exciting part of the entire game, when West De Pere forced the ball closer and closer to the goal, finally stopping six inches from the line where they were held by the Red and White line for a touchdown. Suddenly the Orange and Black, all yelling like mad men, formed a phalanx which plowed through the Red and White line for a touchdown, the second of the game, scarcely ten minutes after the half started. Again West De Pere kicked the goal, making the score 14 to 0 in its favor. Each team punted after the kickoff, and West De Pere, recovering the ball went around right end for 30 yards, ending the third quarter.

TRICK PLAYS
West De Pere then made gains at will by its famous cross back plays, which played a prominent part in the game, and finally went around left end for 20 yards and its third touchdown. The kick failed, and the score became 20 to 0. After a series of plays, in which neither team was able to make large gains, the Orange and Black again came down the field in a rally, to the 5-yard line, where they failed in a drop kick at the close of the game.

With West De Pere playing nine veterans on its team, and outweighing New London in almost every position, the Red and White was clearly outclassed. Despite this fact, the local veterans made an excellent showing. Charlesworth at quarter, using his head from start to finish, and several new men, among them, Seims and J. Edminster, being prominent throughout the contest. The loss of Bladtke and several other men who were the backbone of last year's eleven, and gave New London a 20-14 win over West De Pere, among many others, was felt keenly.

Vandree's Charges Against Sohrweide Will Be Aired in Circuit Court at Waupaca

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—William Sohrweide was bound over for trial in circuit court at Waupaca, when arraigned in police court here Saturday afternoon, on a charge of embezzlement. The charge was preferred by G. A. Vandree, owner of the Vandree Mercantile Co.

The charge grew out of an alleged partnership between the two men, carried on here several months ago under the name of Sohrweide & Vandree Implement company. Mr. Vandree claimed that this alleged partnership never existed, but that Sohrweide was simply in his employ in the implement business. He advised, however, when cross-examined, is the attorney for the defense, George Hume of Chilton, that there had been an agreement to the effect that each was to receive half of the profits of the business, or to stand half of its losses. He also admitted that the business was carried on under the firm name of Sohrweide & Vandree.

Despite these admissions, however, Vandree claims that there was no partnership contract between the two men, and that when the affair came to a close several months ago, he found that Sohrweide had received more than was coming to him. He also admitted that there never had been a partnership settlement between them, and that they had never conferred together to check up on their claims in the business, and that he had never presented an itemized statement of the profits or losses of the business to Mr. Sohrweide. The attorney for the defense moved the court dismiss the action, on the grounds that there had been a partnership existing between the two men, and that there had never been a settlement made, and that, therefore, there were no grounds for a charge of embezzlement.

District Attorney Otto L. Olen, acting for the prosecution, moved that Sohrweide be bound over to circuit court, and the court accordingly accepted the latter motion, binding the defendant over to the next term of circuit court at Waupaca, on bond of $500.

Girl Gains 7 Pounds
Nine Years an Invalid

That's just what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for the Facebook Girl—and is doing as much for tens of thousands of thin, underweight, weak and discouraged people all over America.

These sugar coated, pleasant to take tablets should be given to children instead of the vile stomach upsetting oil itself—they surely do help the frail, delicate little ones and 60 tablets cost but 60 cents at Schlicht Bros., Downer's Drug Store or any druggists.

Read this letter if you have a child that needs to gain health and strength: "My little girl was stricken with infantile paralysis when she was 5 months old and was an invalid for 3 years—when I saw an ad in the paper that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets would build up wasted tissues, I bought a box and she gained very slowly at first and after taking eight boxes, she gained seven pounds. Thanks to McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, after trying almost everything else on the market, she is on the road to recovery and goes to school every day." Mrs. L. Babcock, Appleton, Wis.

Imitations of McCoy's may be offered but be sure and ask for McCoy's the original and genuine and if after thirty days' treatment you are not delighted with results—why, get your money back.

PLAY MANAWA
ELEVEN TUESDAY

High School Football Team
Expects to Make Better Showing Against Neighbors

New London—The high school football team plays its second game of the season Tuesday afternoon at Manawa. After losing by a score of 20 to 0 to West De Pere Saturday, the warriors are determined to break their jinx and take it out on Manawa Tuesday. The westerners are in about the same condition this year as is New London, losing a large number of star performers of last year with graduation, and so a good game can be expected. Manawa has seldom beaten New London. The two games of last year turned out 13 to 0 and 0 to 0. The last was said to have been won by New London by a score of 3 to 0, due to a drop kick in the last three minutes of play. However, the score was disputed and it is not definitely known how the matter was settled, although New London still claims the victory.

It is expected that several changes will be made by Coach Koten in the Red and White lineup. A large following will probably be present at Manawa Tuesday afternoon to see the boys redeem their reputation.

STAGE And SCREEN

LURKING TRAGEDY TURNED TO COMEDY

It is related that it is much harder to move audiences to laughter than to tears, and odd devices often are used by studio and stage technicians to produce mirth by contrasts. There isn't anything particularly funny about a double-barrelled shotgun. In fact this particular weapon and other firearms are tragedy props ten times where they appear in a comedy once.

Yet what has been announced one of the funniest scenes in Charlie Chaplin's comedy-drama of the frozen North, "The Gold Rush," now at the Elite theater, revolves about a two-barrelled fowling piece.

The comedy is achieved by Chaplin's ludicrous efforts to keep out of the range of the muzzle of the gun, while stark tragedy impends with two men fighting for their lives over the possession of the weapon. The scene is said to resent Chaplinesque comedy at its best.

Again, in a later scene of the picture, Chaplin uses the weapon as a mirth-provoker by his efforts to hide the gun from "Big Jim McKay," played by Mack Swain, when the latter loses his reason through the ravages of hunger and seeks the life of the comedian.

In each case lurking tragedy is the background employed to move people to mirth through contrast with the ludicrous. It is said Chaplin senses more than any other entertainer this affinity between seeming opposites.

COLLEGE GIRLS ADD TO ENTERTAINMENT AT FISCHERS APPLETON

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Fischers Appleton theatre will be shown the latest starring picture of Richard Dix entitled "The Lucky Devil," and from all reports it must be far and outstanding the best Dix picture to date. The picture contains a rare scene that has never been approached in any other picture. A certain wise young actor working for a rival company recently called the Long Island branch of the Paramount company and asked to see this film, because he said he was about to make a racing picture and he didn't want to duplicate the scenes. The party who received his call laughed and said "Boy Barney Oldfield would faint if he saw these scenes. You wouldn't go through them if they offered you a million dollars."

Of course it was an accident more or less but no one was injured and it certainly adds a kick to the picture.

Six girls from Lawrence conservatory will sing several songs and give a short dancing number. This is the first of our weekly prologues staged by these budding performers. Also Miss Ruth Hagen, a local dancer of note will deliver a fast flashy dancing number. So with the comedy, News, fables etc. a worthwhile program has been outlined.

"A MOTION TO ADJOURN" HAS A STRONG PLOT

The story of "A Motion to Adjourn" at the New Bijou today and Tuesday, is thoroughly in sympathy with modern American life and the scenes are laid in and around Chicago and the West. There are some very beautiful views and interiors in the picture and the characters and plot have evidently been studied with great care. Peter B. Kyne is a novelist and humorist of a high order and well deserves the national and world-wide reputation that he has obtained.

Ben Wilson has produced the picture with great care and lavishness and the cast headed by Roy Stewart and Marjorie Daw is a strong one. Nothing indeed in this picture has been omitted to make "A Motion to Adjourn" eminently worthy of the cinema art. It is dramatic and humorous by turns, full of heart interest, of human interest, of love interest.

When Roller reported the theft of his machine to Beaver Dam police, they found the car belonging to the local firm parked near where Roller had left his. They are holding the car until a representative of the company goes there to claim it.

CLEAN FAMILY LIFE BULWARK OF STRONG CITY

Dr. Carstens, Social Welfare
Judge, Points Out Necessity for Child Training

"Prevention of conditions which cause tragedies in the lives of children is the most important function of the welfare work today, because child welfare is the vital approach to the whole social problem of the nation," said Dr. C. C. Carstens, Madison, director of the Child Welfare League of America, and one of the judges in the Wisconsin better cities contest, Sunday morning in an address on child welfare at the Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Carstens said the family is the foundation of all social welfare, and that the child is the most important element in any family because it has many more years of life ahead than the adult. He stated that any community is strong in which the lives of its families are clean and wholesome, and that it is weak when family life becomes demoralized.

STRONG HOME LIFE
In his discussion of family welfare, Dr. Carstens said that too many communities were taking a pride in erecting great buildings of brick and stone which were attractions very apt to draw members of a family away from the home circle. Personality and service were described as the real factors in a wholesome family life, rather than martial things such as residences or community buildings.

Dr. Carstens stressed the importance of preventing tragedies in social life rather than the old time idea of letting a mistake be made and then providing some means of cure. He said that people who had made a wreck of their lives should be in no way neglected by welfare workers, but that if more preventive measures were used there would be fewer occasions for welfare workers to redeem a life wrecked by wrong doing. As an example he cited the case of his own state, Massachusetts, where in 1900 $15,000,000 was expended for social purposes, and in 1915 the amount spent for welfare work was $30,000,000. In spite of the fact that Massachusetts has been one of the foremost states in the union in adopting preventive social measures, the greater part of the increase in money spent for social welfare was necessary to rebuild wrecked lives, or care for people who had experienced tragedy through some misdoing.

Social features of community planning as regards child welfare were outlined by Dr. Carstens under ten headings, as follows:

First—what is the community doing to aid the child in its play? Dr. Carstens said there are many people who consider this question too lightly, for they think that a child is capable of playing if nothing else. The value of a child learning teamwork in supervised play instruction, adding that if adults had learned team work in their childhood this would be a better world to live in today.

Second—what can a community do to prepare a child for its work in the world? Here the speaker emphasized the need of keeping up first class vocational and trade schools in every community. He said that cultural education should by no means be slighted, but that practical subjects should be stressed.

Third—what is the community doing in providing good schools and educational equipment for its children? Dr. Carstens complimented Appleton on the building of its two junior high schools. Some people, he said, have the old fashioned idea that all a child needs to get along in the world, is a smattering of reading, writing, and arithmetic. These people are the ones who talk of the past as the "golden age." Dr. Carstens said that there has never been any golden age in the past, and that if there ever is one, it will come in the future.

Fourth—what is the community doing for the child's health? Most modern doctors are vitally interested in health but there are a few who seem to be interested only in disease. The doctor's duty is the maintenance of health in a community, said the speaker.

Fifth—what is a community doing to safeguard the morals of its children? Strict law enforcement was suggested as the most efficient means of moral safeguarding.

Sixth—what are the influences outside the home which attract young people of a wholesome sort? In this connection Dr. Carstens said that today practically all attractions, with the exception of the radio, draw children away from home and that it was the duty of the community to see that outside influences were of the right kind.

Seventh—The need of proper chaperoning was emphasized by Dr. Carstens, for social gatherings of young people under 21.

Eighth—A policy of sound religious training was urged for all children of a community.

Ninth—Do adult clubs, societies, and associations exist only for their own benefit, or do they consider the welfare of the child? Dr. Carstens urged that all adult associations take into consideration the needs of the children, and that they plan constructive work in child welfare.

Tenth—The matter of making one's city a beautiful place in which to live was discussed by Dr. Carstens in relationship to benefits derived by the child and the adult. A city beautiful, he said, made a wholesome environment in which to bring up children.

A. A. PREPARING FOR JUVENILE INSURANCE

Adoption of juvenile insurance by the Aid Association for Lutherans next January in accordance with recent action of the board of directors is the reason for an extensive investigation which officials are making at the present time. A plan will be prepared and presented to the board at its December meeting for final adoption.

Insurance for children as used in other private and fraternal companies is being studied here. The best features in various policies will be chosen. Simplicity of contract will be the aim, with provisions such that every Lutheran family of the Missouri synod may avail itself of the privileges. It is possible that two forms of insurance will be permitted, a term plan with low rates and a cumulative plan which will produce a cash repayment when the policy has expired.

Business of the association will be increased considerably when the juvenile policies are written and the assets are expected to be swelled by large amounts each year.

LUNG CONGESTION WAS CAUSE OF KIEFER DEATH

Neenah—The death of Michael Kiefer, whose body was found Thursday morning on the washroom floor at the Bergstrom Paper mill, died from natural causes, according to a report received from Madison where parts of his body were examined by state pathologists. The report stated that the congestion upon the lungs disclosed at the autopsy coupled with heart lesion was no doubt responsible for the sudden death. Kiefer had reported during the evening previous to his death that he did not feel well but continued with his work as engineer until he fell to the floor where he was found.

Twenty-six children were transferred to that building.

ERICKSON FARM BARN DESTROYED BY ENGINE BLAZE

Phil Erickson Suffers Loss Estimated at $10,000 — Prenzlow Will Case Up

Waupaca—A fire Saturday afternoon destroyed the large barn at the Phil Erickson farm located one and one half miles north of Waupaca, causing a loss in excess of $10,000.

Mr. Erickson is a son of John Erickson, famous as a breeder of purebred Holstein cattle. The fire was caused by a gasoline engine which was said to have become overheated but the blaze was not discovered until the help was in the field. Members of Waupaca volunteer fire department responded with chemical apparatus and with the aid of neighbors saved what livestock was confined. Some grain and machinery were drawn out before the fire reached certain sections. The building was modern throughout and was well filled at the time of the fire. The work of filling two large silos had just been finished, these too were destroyed.

Two employees of the postoffice here have changed places. Bert Quimby, downtown carrier for many years and in the service for eight years has given up his place to Arthur Johnson, carrier on rural route No. 1, that leads out of the city over state highway 54. It is said that both men wanted the other kind of work.

DEFERS DECISION

A period of about three weeks will be required before County Judge William Martin can render a decision in the claim of Gustave Prenzlow of Clintonville, against the estate of the late Julius Prenzlow of that city.

Gustave Prenzlow who was an adopted son of Julius Prenzlow, brought suit against the estate for $10,000, representing the sum as what he considered due him as his share of the meat market and packing business conducted by Julius Prenzlow in Clintonville, and as wages earned by him during a term of ten years that he worked for his foster father.

Julius Prenzlow died last fall, and in his will left out his adopted son entirely, leaving the estate which was valued at around $25,000 to his second wife, to whom he had been married about two years before his death. The plaintiff is represented by the law firm of Brunner and Brunner of Clintonville, and the estate by Attorneys Colea of Milwaukee and Morris of Clintonville.

Gloria's one fear was that the two might see her. Quickly, as if she were fleeing, she ran across the side-walk, and into a drugstore. She sat down at the soda fountain and ordered a chocolate sundae.

When it came, the sight of it made her ill. She paid her check and hurried out into the fresh air and the sunshine.

Thank goodness, Dick and Miss Briggs were nowhere in sight! "I suppose they're having lunch somewhere, together," Gloria thought, with a pang of self-pity. She walked along, not knowing or caring where she was going.

Then a poster outside a moving-picture theater caught her eye. "Jealous Wives"—the words flamed out on it.

Gloria smiled grimly to herself. "I'm one of them," she thought. "I think I'll go in, and see what it's all about."

She went into the dark, cool cavern of the theater. She sank gratefully into a chair. Ah, it was good to be here, alone! Away from her mother's disappointed eyes, her father's kindness, from Aunt Dorcas' sharp tongue . . . away from everybody.

There was no sound in the theater except the whirling of a huge electric fan in the center of the ceiling. Down in the orchestra pit, the organist was turning the leaves of his music.

The picture flashed on the screen. Against it Gloria could see the silhouette of a man who sat directly in front of her . . . Dick!

She leaned over to touch him upon the shoulder. "Then caught herself. No, he would have to come to her! She was through begging him to take her back.

But there was a certain cold comfort in the thought that he was not with Miss Briggs, at any rate. She must have merely walked out of the building with him on her way to lunch.

Gloria was glad of that. The thought that Dick could give her up for a plain woman like Susan Briggs had added to her cup of bitterness. Perhaps, after all he didn't care so very much for her.

Suddenly Dick shifted a little in his seat. Gloria held her breath. Suppose he should turn around and see her there! He would think that she had followed him into the theater.

No, he mustn't think that. She would never give him another chance to think she wanted him to take her back. . . . She was through!

Softly she slipped from her chair, and walked out of the twilight of the theater.

But a great loneliness dropped down on her like a cloud, as she went out into the thronged street. How lonely a crowd could make you feel. . . .

Gloria turned away from the center of the town. She walked along familiar streets. She knew where she was going. . . . Home!

Not to her mother's house, but to the little place that had been Dick's and hers! She was going to that forbidden place . . . the one spot on the whole wide earth where she felt at home.

How cozy and happy the little green and white house looked as Gloria came down the street toward it! It seemed to twinkle a welcome to her with all of its shining windows.

But in the center of the green lawn was a real estate agent's "For Sale" sign. Gloria had a sudden impulse to pull up the sign, as she might have torn a weed out of the lawn.

"Hello, there, lady!" a voice hailed her.

Her neighbor, Mrs. Donberg, was leaning out of one of the second-floor windows of the house next door. "I was thinking of calling up the real estate people to ask them to show me through your house," she said in her shrill voice. "But now that you're here you can let me in. I'll be right over!"

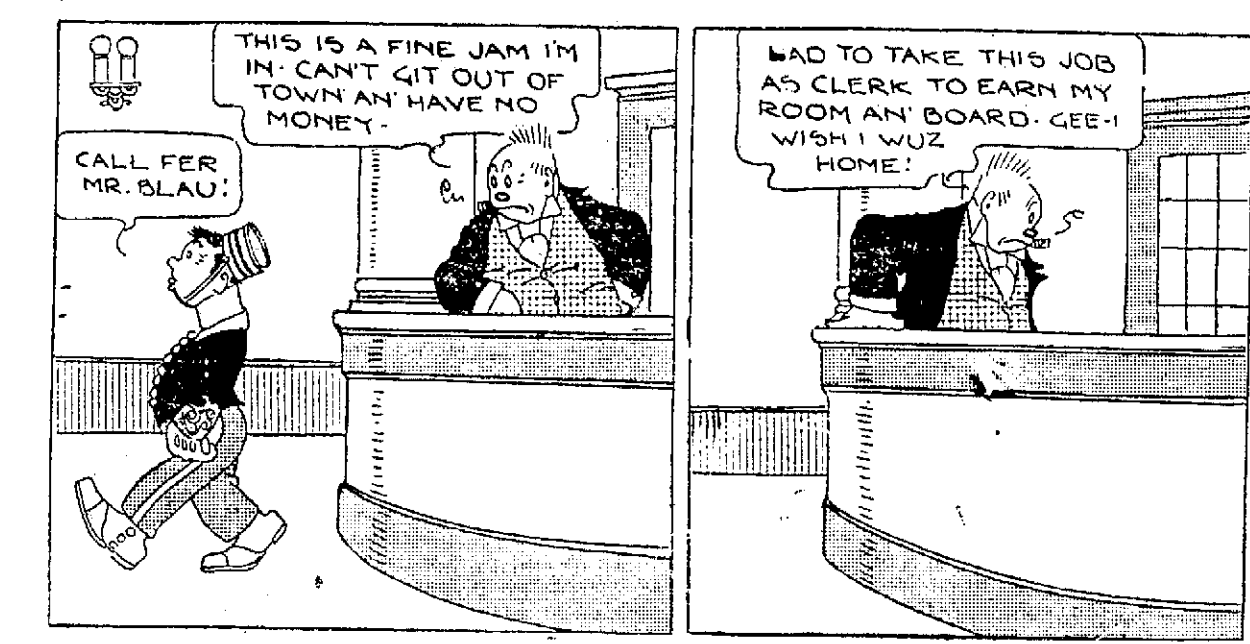

Gloria eyed her coldly. "I'm sorry, Mrs. Donberg," she said. "but I haven't any key with me. I just came to pick some of the roses in the backyard!"

"Well, you thing of buying the house?"

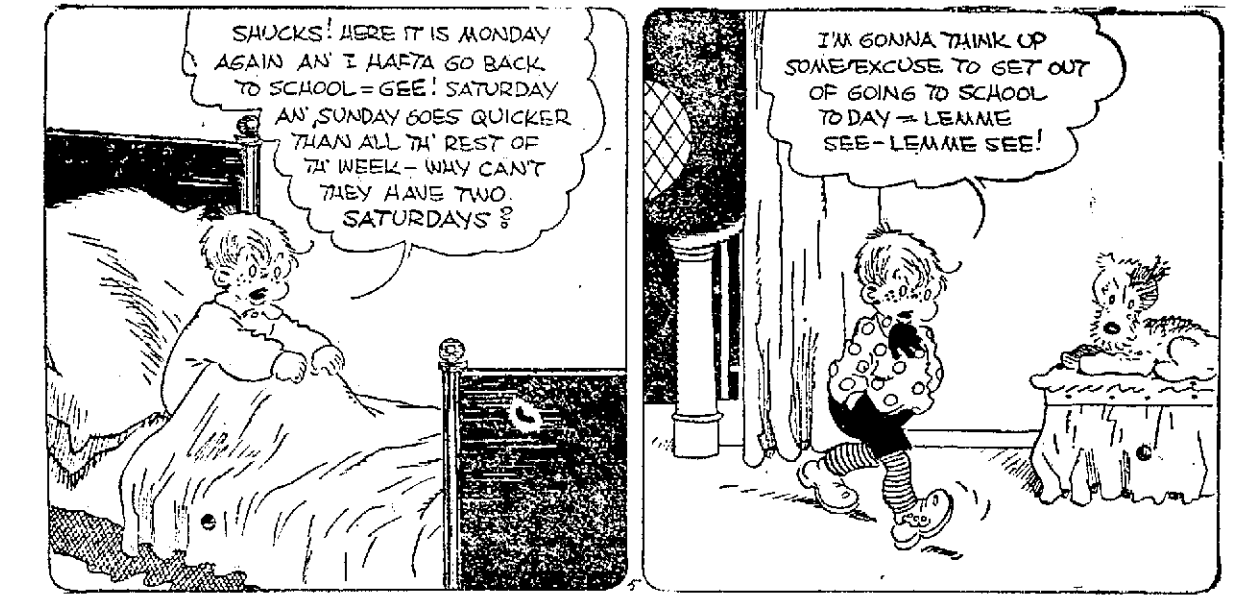

"Well, we'd love to have it. It's a little bigger than ours," Mrs. Donberg answered.

KAUKAUNA HIGHS TAKE 21-0 WIN AT EAST DEPERE

Electric City Crew Easily Out-plays Home Team to Cop 2nd Win of Season

Special to Post-Crescent
De Pere — Coach William Smith's Kaukauna Tigers defeated East De Pere Saturday afternoon on their own grounds in a one sided game 21-0. The Kaukauna boys outplayed De Pere during the entire game except for the last few minutes when the entire second team went in and De Pere started a march for the goal line. Kemp fumbled a punt and De Pere recovered and on the next down completed a long pass. Then Materowski, fullback and the backbone of the De Pere team broke through the second string line for a twenty yard gain. With about a half minute to play Smith's future hopes bucked up and held De Pere on the three yard line for three downs without allowing them to go over for a score and the game ended with the ball in De Pere's possession on the three yard line.
The playing of Captain Jack Farwell, fullback, was one of the big features of the game and the work of "Wally" Kilgas, quarter punting and returning of punts was some of the prettiest ever seen on the De Pere field. Farwell seemed able to gain at will and seldom made less than five yards on a plunge. The splendid work of Jack Verheten, who made many good gains, and whose work at interference was especially noticeable was another help in piling up the score.

FIRST TOUCHDOWN
Kaukauna kicked to De Pere and after three downs being unable to gain De Pere punted and Kilgas returned the punt 16 yards. Farwell made first down in three plays and then Farwell threw a pass to Noie for 25 yards. With the first chance to score the ball was fumbled on De Pere's twenty yard line after two tries without a gain De Pere punted and Kilgas gained 10 yards on the return. Another march down the field was started with the Kaukauna line opening big holes and Farwell, Verheten and Macrorie tore through for big gains. De Pere held on their own 20 yard line and Kaukauna lost the ball on downs. After one down without a gain De Pere punted and Kilgas returning the ball 20 yards this time the march down the field was not stopped and Farwell bore over the line for the first score. Kilgas missed the try for a drop kick.

Kaukauna kicked to De Pere. Materowski made a long run and gained 11 yards for first down. On the next play Noie broke through and threw the ball for a loss of five yards. De Pere punted and Macrorie caught the punt. Another march down the field was started and long gains by Farwell brought the ball within scoring distance and Farwell went over for the second touchdown. Kilgas drop kicked the ball for the extra point. The half ended with the ball in Kaukauna's possession and on a march down the field for another score.

De Pere kicked to Kaukauna at the opening of the second half and on the first play Farwell completed a pass to Noie for 20 yards. On the next down a poor pass by the center caused a fumble and a loss of twelve yards. Kilgas made a pretty punt of 50 yards and the De Pere man was tackled on their own 16 yard line. De Pere immediately punted and Kilgas brought the ball back 15 yards. On the third down with 4 yards to go Kilgas played safe and punted.

De Pere recovered on their own 12 yard line. On the next play a poor pass from the center caused Materowski to fumble and Boyd took him behind the line for a safety.

Another march down the field was started with passes figuring as the ground gainers. Macrorie went over for the third marker of the game making the score 21-0. Then Coach "Tiger Bill" started sending in his second string men and De Pere opened up with a series of aerial attacks. They made one good gain and then the second team began breaking them up. De Pere punted and Kemp fumbled. De Pere recovered and took the youngsters off their feet in a series of line plunges that carried the ball to Kaukauna's three yard line with a half minute to play. The boys then showed fight and held De Pere for three downs when the whistle blew and the game ended.

Two casualties may cause a serious loss of tackles to the Kaukauna team. Fay Posson, tackle wrenched his knee and had to be taken out. Worely, who was sent in his place showed some fine work but in the last few minutes received a kick in the face and when taken to the doctor after the game it was found that he had sustained a broken nose. Motenusk, De Pere star, was also laid out, and had to be taken from the game in the last few minutes.

KEG DRIVER, FORMER BADGER BACK, DIES

Madison—(P)—Funeral arrangements were made Monday for Earl S. (Keg) Driver, 47, former University of Wisconsin football star, who died at a hospital here Sunday after an illness of several weeks.
Driver was a former assistant adjutant general district head of an insurance organization. He was a fullback on the Badger football teams of 1901 and 1902, and afterward was freshman coach and varsity scout until 1923.

2 BADGER TEAMS ROLL UP SCORES IN PRELIM GAMES

St. Norberts Surprises Ripon; Millsmen Show Great Strength Against N. W.

Milwaukee—(P)—St. Norbert college proved the surprise of the Wisconsin secondary football teams Saturday by defeating Ripon College 35 to 7, in a game which developed the strength of the winners' attack.
The St. Norbert team was the second high point getter of the week end. Beloit college rolling up the heaviest score, 40 points, against Northwestern college.

MILLSMEN LOOK GOOD
The game revealed the fact that Coach Tom Mills has a strong backfield combination supported by a fast charging line, and a fine defense, as Northwestern was unable to score.
Mark Catlin's Lawrence college outfit had quite an afternoon with Oshkosh Normal and when the referee called it a day, had succeeded in winning a 12 to 6 victory but showed little in the line of a powerful concentrated attack. Oshkosh went into the game as the underdog, but fought back Catlin's best attacks and scored a lone touchdown on a passing attack.

River Falls normal took on Phalen Luther college up in St. Paul, and came out of the fracas with a 21 to 0 score in their favor. The Luther team is one of the newest in the northwest the school having but recently started playing football.
Superior Normal had an easy afternoon with the Evelev Junior college, winning 30 to 0.
Stevens Point Normal defeated Northland College, Ashland, in a well played game, 22 to 7. The Pointers did about what was expected of them. The closest game of all was between the Winona teachers and Stout. The Teachers won by a goal after touchdown, the final score being 7 to 6.
At Dubuque, Ia., Columbia college defeated the Wisconsin Miners, 14 to 6.

LAWRENCE FROSH WINS
Milwaukee Normal went down before the Marquette Freshmen 6 to 2, and St. John's Military academy lost to the Lawrence College Freshmen 11 to 6.

ENGINEERS SURVEYING FOR NEW NEENAH BRIDGE

Engineers of Division 3 of the state highway commission have begun making surveys at Neenah preparatory to planning construction of a new bridge in that city, which will take the place of the present narrow structure across the Fox river and two canals. It is planned to build the new bridge of concrete.

The division office reports that an effort will be made to complete the Federal Aid paving projects on highway 17 between Manitowish and Sheboygan this fall. Work will be hastened on these projects by another concrete mixer, which will soon be added to the equipment.

Slow progress is being made on improvements to highway 47 through the Monominee Indian reservation it is said. The entire stretch of road through the reservation is being widened, and many places are being straightened to eliminate dangerous curves and hills. This is also a federal aid project.

FORMER MIDWEST ATHLETES TAKE GOOD COACH JOBS

Cooke, Old Blue Star, Stuelke, Crack Coe Cager, Head Athletics in K-C Mills

That athletes of the Midwest Athletic conference, consisting of the leading colleges of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois and Iowa are regarded highly as coaches and recreational directors, though the conference has only been functioning about three years, is being shown every day by the positions grabbed off by its graduates. The latest Midwest men to come in this class are well known to local fans and have taken up their work in Wisconsin to help with the Badger state's recreational work in the industries, for which the state is noted.

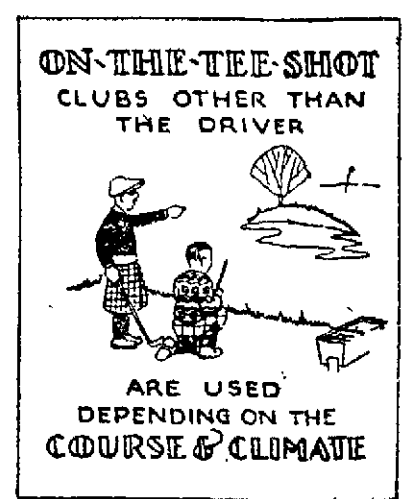

AT K-C MILLS
Osmum "Ossie" Cooke, Blue all-around athlete for practically his entire college career which ended in 1923, and Gaylord R. Stuelke, Coe college star, have taken over the positions of athletic directors in the two Wisconsin plants of the Kimberly-Clark Paper Co., one of the largest paper-manufacturing concerns in the country. Ossie is in charge at the Kimberly plant and Gay is at Niagara.

THREE LETTER MEN
Cooke starred at end in football and was noted for his punting ability. At basketball a lanky Lawrentian was a center and was the best high jumper and hurdler on the track squad winning his letter in all three sports. Last year he played center on the Kimberly-Clark basketball team which capped second place at the state amateur meet. He and Stuelke never met on the cage courts as Coe was not on the Blue schedule until last year.

Stuelke captained the Coe cagers last year from a guard position and will be remembered by local fans who witnessed the Lawrence-Coe game as the handsome guard who seemed to be in every play. He was one of the four best guards in the conference and was placed with Pete Briesse on the Midwest second team. He also made the Iowa All-state team with ease. His squad won 10 straight games and only a loss to a great Lawrence squad here kept it out of the Midwest title. As it was it won 11 games during the season. Stuelke has coached basketball, baseball and football during his athletic career.

GOLF As Champions Play It

Under what conditions should clubs other than the driver be used from the tee?

BY BOBBY CRICKSHANK
There are several occasions when other clubs can be used. First of all we'll take the one shot hole which varies from 240 yards down to 170 or thereabouts. For the 240 yards the first class golfer would probably use a brassie, according to climatic conditions. Any of these one shot holes will call for every club except the driver, niblick and putter.
Sometimes it is necessary to get a quick rise on the flight of ball so a brassie or spoon is much more advisable. Again, if there is a high wind behind the player and a hazard somewhere down the fairway it should be used. On a calm day a brassie, spoon or even a driving iron would be preferred since the hazard could not be reached.

ELK BOWLERS TO BE THE "NUTS"

All Elk bowlers who have signed up as members in the club bowling league for the coming season will be "nuts" of one kind or another. There will be 12 teams of maple busters in the loop this year, and each one is named after some variety of nut. The team captains have been selected but the personnel of all twelve teams has not been completely compiled as yet. Following is a list of the "nutty" teams with their captains:

"Y" Team Star Beats Lawrence Coach, 6-4, 6-3; Plays Lacke in 3rd Battle

Another Appleton tennis player entered the third flight of the battle for the 1925 city singles championship now being waged on the Y. M. C. A. courts when R. V. Landis, star of the "Y" intercity squad trimmed Herb Mundhenke, Lawrence college net mentor, 6-3, 6-4. In the best play of the tourney to date, only Landis and Clem Lacke have reached the third flight by taking two matches in a row from opponents, but the third flight draw brings these two together, so that one of them will enter the semi-finals in the next few days.

CROSS FORFEITS
C. W. Cross forfeited his opening round match to Harold Eads and Eads plays Power, a first-round winner, in the second flight next week. Mundhenke meets Cooper in the consolation flight and there is a chance that the Blue mentor will sail through this flight with ease and may meet Landis again for the title. The match is run on the double elimination plan so that a man has to lose two games before he is out. After his first loss he drops to the consolation flight where a loss puts him out entirely. The man who heads the consolation round has only one defeat and can meet the finalist of the actual competition for first honors. After the first flight a loser is eliminated entirely.

All bowling will be done Friday evenings, the first games to start promptly at 7, and finish before 9 o'clock, and the latter games to start at 9 and finish at 11 o'clock. This will be a departure from the schedule of former years when two nights were used to roll all the games. Bowling will start Friday, Oct. 9 and every Friday following until April 1, 1926. Prizes will then be awarded to teams and individual bowlers.

You Need Frigidaire in Winter as Well as Summer

WINTER weather is never a safe substitute for refrigeration. Even in zero weather, indoor temperatures frequently rise above the point at which food can be kept without risk of spoiling. Even outdoor winter temperatures often reach the danger point.

But the temperature of Frigidaire is a safe temperature the coldest day in winter or the hottest day in summer.

Frigidaire is governed automatically by the temperature inside the cabinet. It can be neither too warm nor too cold. A uniform and correct temperature is preserved at all times. Foods come out of the Frigidaire cabinet as fresh, wholesome and appetizing as when you put them there.

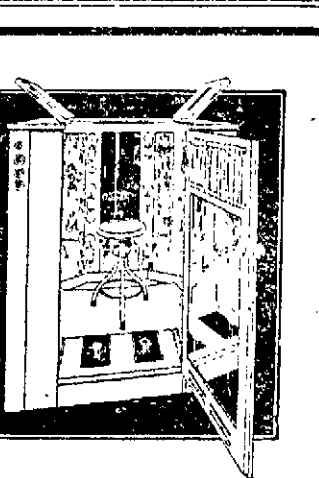

You have no more ice cards to remember—no more need to stay at home until ice has been delivered. You have automatic, dependable refrigeration every day in the year.

New models now make it possible for you to have Frigidaire complete with cabinet at a new, low price. Or, if you now have a good ice-box, it can be converted into Frigidaire easily and inexpensively. The greatly increased production of Frigidaire assures prompt delivery—and payment may be arranged on convenient terms.

These new models are now on display. Come in and see them.

COLONEL MITCHELL IN LEGION'S LIMELIGHT

which may be thrust upon nations will on the one hand reduce the possibilities of war and on the other, better prepare us for defense of ourselves if forced into the war. The legion has now a special committee of able men engaged in making a careful study of peace and the best way to secure and retain it.

DRAFT WEALTH

"The legion believes a wise provision in peace time for the use of all available resources of the nation to carry forward successfully an unavoidable war. Involves some form of adequate federal law by which at the need of the nation not only will there be made available manpower to fight, but manpower to work, factory power to produce, and money power to finance a war. In short, a way to carry forward a with no profits or shirkers."

Commander Drain presented a 150-page report for the period of his command. He said the past year has been one of success in all legion enterprises.

Commander Drain warned the legionaries against participation in politics as a national organization. "We must be non-partisan in politics as an organization," he declared.

HINES SPEAKS

Complete decentralization of its work resulting in greater satisfaction among the veterans, was cited as the outstanding accomplishment of the veterans' bureau in the past year in an address prepared by General Frank T. Hines, its director for the opening session. Reporting in detail on the bureau's work, General Hines said the decentralization had resulted in fewer appeals to the central office. By eliminating unnecessary steps in the handling of cases, the bureau, the director said, has been able to concentrate on building up more efficient forces and at the same time effect a reduction of 2,000 in the number of field employees in the last thirteen months.

As a result of the bureau's policy of placing in "key positions" whenever available qualified former service men and women to the end that service to veterans may be rendered with the utmost sympathy and understanding, their number, Mr. Hines reported has been increased to 51,700 per cent of the bureau's total force of 5,200. Excluding hospital attendants, he said 62 percent of the male force are former service men.

General Hines reported construction had been completed at six major hospital projects adding a total of 2,111 beds. He said the effort was being pressed to make the government built and owned hospitals equal or superior to the private institutions in which veterans are receiving treatment.

ENTHUSIASM REIGNS

Colorful scenes and an enthusiasm unabated by seven years of following peace time pursuits, marked the formal opening here Monday of the convention.

An all night celebration and playing old army games did not take so much out of the state delegations that they assembled in silence.

As the gavel of James A. Drain, national commander fell, an air of "good fellows glad to be together," again prevailed and there was apparent none of the seriousness of business later to come before the convention.

"Omaha to you," Mayor James C. Dahlen told the convention and ratification of their taking of it Sunday night was cheered to the echo.

The governor of Nebraska, Adam McMillan, was introduced before it was found he had not arrived, but his reception and welcoming address last night by the slight delay.

Mention of the name of General J. J. Pershing was received with wild applause. Governor McMillan welcomed the legion "to the home state of your commander-in-chief."

Legion colors of the old gold and purple, Old Glory and the flags of the allies predominated in the decorations bordering the great hall and its forest of state standards.

Most of the delegates were civilian clothing and no service garb was seen on the floor.

BOYS CAMPAIGN STARTS TONIGHT

Youngsters Meet at Y. M. C. A. for Final Instructions for Membership Campaign

The kickoff in the football membership campaign of the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A., will occur Monday evening when all teams will meet at a banquet to receive final instructions. Teams for the drive which will last until Friday evening were chosen over the weekend. The goal of the boys is 300 new boy memberships before the senior campaign which opens next Monday.

A large football field has been set up in the boys' division and it has been divided into five lanes for the competing teams. The football which the Lawrence and Oshkosh Normal squads used in their battle Saturday will be suspended above the painted grid and it will be lowered into the end of each team's "play." At the end of the drive it will be painted with the names of members of the winning group and will be presented to the high individual member-getter of the drive. Instead of the field being represented as 100 yards long it is 60 yards so that if each of the five teams makes a touchdown at the end of the campaign 300 members will be secured as each yard gained during the "game" marks a new member.

Harold Ends is general chairman of the campaign with A. R. Eads as adviser. The team of six members each make up the personnel of the campaign. Each team has an older man as adviser. The teams follow:

Wisconsin — Carleton Roth, captain. Warren Wright, advisor. Ted Bolton, Carl Ek, Philip Reuss, Elmer Quale and Ted Meyer.

Illinois — Robert Wolfe, captain. Robert Wood, advisor. William Lyons, Dexter Chafee, Nathan Spector, Jack Reeves and Lawrence Konzelmann.

Ohio — John Catlin, captain. F. D. Gehhardt, advisor. Cyril Schneider, William Foote, Mark Catlin, William Meyer and Jack Schroeder.

Chicago — Glen Opperman, captain. A. H. Gehardt, advisor. Don Wolters, Sam Ornstein, Harry Kaminsky and Walter Moore.

Michigan — Frank Hannun, captain. A. C. Jensen, advisor. William Lee, Vincent Burgess, Harold Hatch and James Neller.

AUTOIST HITS CAR PARKED ON STREET

A collision between two cars on N. Oneida, between N. Harris and Franklin, at 8:20 Saturday evening resulted in minor damage to both machines. Occupants escaped without injuries.

Art Gustman, route 1, Menasha, while driving south on N. Oneida, collided with a car parked at the curb on the west side of the street, about 40 feet north of Franklin. The latter machine belongs to Ignatius Elchinger, 225 Teichmuller.

The rear front end of Gustman's car was smashed and the left rear fender of the other bent.

Gustman was accompanied by William Schlender of Kaukauna.

EPISCOPAL RECTOR WAS UNABLE TO REACH CITY

The Rev. H. Francis Hine of Stratford, Conn., who was to preach at All Saints church Sunday morning, was detained in the last moment and was unable to reach here. He was considering a call offered him to the Appleton church. The pulpit therefore was occupied Sunday for the early and late communion services by the Rev. Gardner MacWhorter of Chicago. This pastor formerly was vicar of St. John church, Wisconsin Rapids, and is well known because he broadcasted the reports of the MacMillan Arctic expedition recently by radio.

Evening classes at the Appleton Vocational school will be resumed Monday evening and the regular schedule be in force for the remainder of the year. Enrollment in all evening classes numbers approximately 600.

At least 200 more applied for enrollment in the various classes, but because of limited facilities at the school they had to be placed on a reserve list. Only those applicants who would make the best students and who would get the most out of the work were admitted.

All successful applicants were notified of their admittance last week, as were those who were placed on the reserve list.

YOUTH WOUNDED BY RIFLE BULLET

Hortonville Boy Taken to Hospital After Accidental Discharge of Gun

While hunting with a companion Sunday afternoon, Norman Herbst, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herbst of Hortonville, was accidentally shot in the right arm by his friend, "Spec" Rogers, when the latter's gun accidentally discharged as they were walking.

Although suffering severely from pain, Norman rushed back to Hortonville, about one mile from where the accident occurred, with his companion and received medical attention at once. Later he was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital where an X-ray examination disclosed the bullet lodged in a bone of the arm. An operation will be performed Tuesday to remove the bullet.

The accident happened between 3 and 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The boys were walking in single file, each with a .22 rifle under his arm. The Rogers youth was in the lead and Norman was directly behind the former.

In some accountable reason the gun suddenly discharged, perhaps from a slight jar, and the bullet lodged in the arm of the boy at the rear. Rogers was carrying his gun pointing to the rear.

Lawrence Alumnus Wins Recognition As Poet

A new book of poetry in the public library entitled "Dreams That Live" will be of especial interest to Appleton people because the author of this volume is Ralph Culnan of Appleton, former Marinette young man who graduated from Lawrence college with the class of 1924. Mr. Culnan's book recently was published by the Bookfellows Association at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and the first edition is limited to 200 copies, one of which was presented to the Appleton public library by the young author. The illustrations were drawn by Arthur Sponner of this city, who has attained considerable fame as a painter, and who won first prize at the Wisconsin's Painters' exhibition in 1924 with his painting called "Early Breakfast." Russell H. Spoor, Appleton, a graduate of Lawrence college with the class of 1925, drew the title page of Mr. Culnan's book. "Dreams That Live" is a collection of 45 poems ranging from one to eight stanzas in length. The poems are arranged under three titles: "Dreams That Live," "Songs From an Enchanted Garden," and "Memories and Reflections." Mr. Culnan writes with an attractive, finished, and refreshing style, and most of his poems in "Dreams That Live" deal with nature subjects and are rich in beauty, descriptive power, and spiritual feeling. Mention of a few titles such as "The Fairies Visit," "Winds of the Night," "To My Lady of the Flowers," "Everyman's Castle," "Twilight," and "By the Sea," will give the prospective reader an inkling of the wealth of nature enchantment contained in Mr. Culnan's verses.

Mr. Culnan graduated from the Marinette high school in 1917, and enlisted in the army the following year, near the close of the World war. He received his B. A. degree from Lawrence in 1924, graduating with high honors. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities, and recently received an appointment to the advisory board of the American Literary association. He also is a member of the Order of Bookfellows.

Since his graduation Mr. Culnan has been making his home in Appleton, and devoting his time to writing poetry. Some of his early poems have been printed in some of the leading literary magazines of the country such as "The Euclidean," "A Journal of Poetry," and "The Bookman's Anthology."

In the Yellowstone National Park a cook is known as a "meat burner." A chauffeur as a "brake jammer," and a waitress as a "heaver."

MITCHELL IS NOT READY TO TALK POLITICS

Washington—Talk of running Col. William Mitchell, Milwaukee, for congress in Wisconsin apparently is not taken seriously by the fiery assailant of the existing order of things in American aviation.

In a written statement, read to the president's special board of inquiry into aviation, Col. Mitchell said:

"We know it is our duty to the country, while we yet live, to let them weight what evidence we have to give. Were we to be remiss in this duty, we would not be faithful to our oath that we will defend the constitution against all enemies. As far as I am concerned, there is absolutely no seeking for government position, no political affiliation or hidden desire behind my stand. There is no mental hesitation of self reservation."

COUNTY COMMITTEE TO INSPECT NORMAL SCHOOL

Bills amounting to $1378 were allowed at the October meeting of the county building and grounds committee Friday afternoon at the courthouse. The committee will go to Kaukauna this week to inspect the work being done at the county training school where a steam heating system is being installed.

After having served the country wherever necessary for over 27 years and wherever our flag has called us, all I care to be is just a plain American citizen, free to give my countrymen my views founded on a store of valued experience obtained in the service."

Children Need Pure Milk for Health

Animals, especially rats fed on a liberal diet of other foods, minus milk, soon grow thin, inactive, with flabby muscles, lustreless eyes and coarse hair. Immediately milk is added to their diet all these conditions change, and they speedily regain their former activity; their hair becomes soft and silky; eyes bright, muscles firm and elastic. It is quite logical to expect the same conditions to take place when adults are deprived of milk, and in much more marked degree in children whose diet is not so varied and demands milk.

Gay China Will Give Zest to Autumn Parties

Are you tired of serving delicious lunches upon the same old china that you have had for years? Your guests will appreciate the good things you have prepared for them all the more if you serve them on beautiful new dishes. Every hostess wants her parties to be just right in every way. Lovely china contributes much to the success of any social affair.

English China — $8.95

Very new and pretty are the sets of English china in cream with gold floral patterns in tangerine, green and blue. With this colorful pattern one's table needs little other decoration. A 32-piece set is $8.95.

Bavarian Sets — $25.

New sets of china have just arrived from Bavaria. The quality is very lovely. At the edge of each piece is a cream band with a small rose design outlined in gold. The cups are unusually quaint in shape. $25 for 22 pieces.

32-Piece Sets — $9.95

A set containing 32 pieces—six each of the seven-inch plates, four-inch plates, four-inch fruit saucers, tea cups and saucers, a ten inch platter and a seven-inch baker—in a pretty pattern of flowers is $9.95.

American China — $8.95

American china yields nothing to that from foreign lands in beauty of design or color. A dainty set has a colored band with minute flowers in rose, lavender and green. Narrow hairline stripes in orange set off with its odd beauty. $8.95.

Syracuse Sets — $15.

Syracuse china is well known for its beauty and quality. There are charming patterns in this set. One is white with a band of pink roses and edge of coin gold. It is $15.

Satsuma Tea Sets — $6.50

Satsuma ware is much liked for its Oriental patterns and colorings. A teapot with six tumblers makes a pretty set in cream with lavender and rose decorations. $6.50.

New Teapots — $1. - $2.50

No one ever had too many teapots, especially if they are as attractive as the new ones that we have just received. There are the fat brown ones with bands of gold and decorations in gay colors. Some are cream, with gay designs in brown and some have a touch of blue. There are several sizes from the tiny ones for individual use to the big, plump ones that hold tea enough for a whole family. Prices range from $1. to $2.50.

Novelties

Many original shapes in teapots are found among our latest arrivals. Some have the form of elephants—very gay elephants, too. In bright and cheerful colors. Some represent birds and chicks. Then there are more conventional shapes. One in canary yellow with black handle, nose and top is pretty. A delightful teapot is almost square with a richly colored pattern of blue and green on a deep cream background. $1. to $2.50.
